MERIT AWARD / NON-RESIDENTIAL

Harriet Tubman Underground Railroad Visitor Center
Cambridge, MD

Conceived as a series of abstracted forms that can be interpreted in many ways, the center immerses visitors in the story of Harriet Tubman's life.

MERIT AWARD / RESIDENTIAL

Monkton Farmhouse
Monkton, MD

Similar to working farms in the area, this 5,000 sq. ft. home is an assembly of simple building forms linked by pathways and breezeways to create functioning outdoor spaces.

MERIT AWARD / RESIDENTIAL

Royal Oak Renovation
Royal Oak, MD

A renovation to a 1914 Durch Gambrel home and the conversion of an existing garage/barn to a pool house created a family retreat sympathetic to the historic character of the home.

AIA CHESAPEAKE BAY DESIGN EXCELLENCE AWARD WINNERS

Student Honor Award & Scholarship Recipient: Sean Payne

The design of a visitor's center for Joshua Tree National Park is inspired by the vastness of the surrounding landscape.

Student People's Choice Award: Mark Davis

Our capital city of Annapolis inspired ink and color renderings reflecting its rich religious, academic, residential and government architectural styles.

HONOR AWARD / NON-RESIDENTIAL

706 Giddings
Annapolis, MD

The newly renovated building elevates West Annapolis by implementing a modern canon that bridges the neighborhood's residential and commercial styles.
