Pyramid Builders

---

Bret Anderson

Mark Sanders

Pyramid Builders built a new house with a hemispherical dome for residents on the South River. It is suspended over a grand two-story foyer and provides a focal point to the sweeping stairway and balustrade. Constructed entirely of plaster and skillfully painted, its construction, symmetry, and proportion are the result of great craftsmanship—every dimension is balanced and each coffer reflects perfectly its opposite side.

Ciminelli's Landscape Services

Matt Ciminelli

Matt Ciminelli's client had storm water pooling in her driveway and an unsightly shed whose roof needed repair. Ciminelli suggested that, along with roof repair, she add a green roof, which would help with aesthetics and runoff. He installed a green roof on the shed, and replaced the asphalt driveway with Aqua-Bric Pavers. These pavers are permeable and allow water to be absorbed by the soil beneath.
